5/16/92

Dear Mrs. O'Brien,

Thank you very much for your letter of the 9th.

I've heard nothing more from Wisconsin. I hope they are able to proceed with the scientific testing.

We do keep a mailing list and I'm sure you are already on it. We always hope against probability that I'll be able to publish more.

There have been changes in publishing attitudes. Book publishers are now fighting to be able to print JFK assassination books but nothing really good or depenable has appeared and much that is terrible, probably misleading more young people but misleading all. Reporters now call me more often, from all media.

I do appreciate your concern for my health. If it deteriorates no more I'll be both lucky and happy.

And, at my age and with all that is wrong with me I'm lucky to still be here and lucky to be able to do anything.

I do stay busy, too!

Again thanks and all best wishes,

Harold Weisberg
